The 36th edition of the International Festival of Fashion, Photography and Fashion accessories, Hyères, took place between Thursday 14th and Sunday 17th October 2021 at the villa Noailles and salin des Pesquiers. The exhibitions will be open to the public until November 28, except the presidents of the jurys exhibitions, the prize winners 2020 in partnership with le19M and the CHANEL Métiers d'art.

Jean-Pierre Blanc is both the founder and the director of the festival which will be presided over by Pascale Mussard.

Since 1986, the festival has promoted and supported young international fashion design, since 1997 a competition has also existed for emerging photographer and this year, for the fifth time, a competition will also recognise young fashion accessory designers. The festival is acknowledged as the oldest fashion competition aimed at young professionals.

Several prizes are awarded to the competing designers thanks to grants provided by the festival's partners who commit, together with the festival, to provide long term support. Practical assistance is provided right from the selection stage as well as during a period of two years in various different domains: financing, production, workmanship, materials, production, legal, media, exhibitions, workshops and residencies.

Once again in 2021, the faithful partners of the Festival are committed to support the next generation of designers: CHANEL, le19M, Première Vision, LVMH, Chloé, Hermès, Mercedes-Benz, American Vintage, la Fédération de la Haute Couture et de la Mode, le DéfiKering, Première Classe, Supima...

THE le19M CHANEL MÉTIERS D'ART PRIZE

Grand Partner of the International Festival of Fashion, Photography and Fashion Accessories in Hyères since 2014, CHANEL further reinforced its support of the festival's activities in 2019 with the creation of a prize dedicated to the Métiers d'art.

This prize's vocation is to reward the best collaboration between the ten finalists and ten of the Houses belonging to CHANEL's Métiers d'art:

Ateliers de Verneuil-en-Halatte, Causse, Desrues, Goossens, Lemarié, Lesage, Lognon, Maison Michel, Montex and Paloma.

The winner, chosen by the Fashion jury, will receive a grant of 20,000 euros to make a new creative project that will be unveiled next year, at the 37th edition of the festival.

The name of this prize changed up in 2020 to become the le19M CHANEL Métiers d'art Prize, echoing the opening of a new Parisian site gathering 11 maisons d'art, representing about six hundred artisans, all serving the creativity of CHANEL and other major names in fashion.

Dominique Issermann
President of the photography jury and guest of honor

Dominique Issermann entered the world of image first through the cinema in Italy, in the reportage with the Carnation Revolution in Portugal, and in fashion with Sonia Rykiel who entrusted her with her advertising campaigns since 1979. She made many portraits of contemporary artists such as Catherine Deneuve, Marguerite Duras, Balthus or Bob Dylan. Her work as a fashion photographer can be seen in the international press like The NYT Magazine or Vogue. She directs ads and advertising films for the biggest brands, such as Chanel or Dior, as well as video clips, in particular for Leonard Cohen. She continues her personal work with the books Anne Rohart or Laetitia Casta and with large exhibitions dedicated to her at the Rencontres d'Arles and the MEP. Dominique Issermann has received the titles of Officer of Arts and Letters, Knight of the Order of Merit, and Knight of the Legion of Honor. In 2021, she is the first woman elected to the photographic section of the Académie des Beaux-Arts.

The debate is passionate, peaceful, no insults, no threats, calm but dense. After the calm of the debate, the heartbreak of the decisions that separate, that separate the members of the jury from each other, as well as from the selected candidates.

Let's stay united, we have looked at your photos in all angles, we will be close to you forever, and of course totally available.

These two prizes: The Grand Prix of the Photography Jury and the American Vintage Photography Prize, will allow you to go further in your work, and that is so precious. We are very curious to see the results. For the others, continue with courage and persistence without worrying about our choices.

Lives and works in Paris, France

The Grand Prix of the Photography Jury is awarded to Emma Charrin and Olivier Muller for the project Tropic du Yucca. This photography shows no face, no emotion, does not incite to plunge into the contemplation or the wonder of the enigmatic beauty.

It is a theatre where a drama is being played out, perhaps, tensions in any case.

Theatrical framing, with its characters installed as if waiting to be transported into another world. A final effort to choreograph at all costs. A staging that tries to control the passage by boat to the new world on the Mediterranean.

Greek statues in one of the most popular places in France that moves away from tragedy to the brutalism of ecological protest.

AMERICAN VINTAGE PHOTOGRAPHY PRIZE

For the fifth year, American Vintage is partner with the International Festival of Fashion, Photography and Fashion Accessories in Hyères with the « American Vintage Photography prize ».

Each of the 10 candidates preselected by the members of the jury must present a one-of-a-kind print based on a selection of American Vintage pieces.

The 10 prints will be displayed during the entire duration of the festival at the Villa Noailles.

The grant, whose value equals 15,000 euros (including 5,000 euros for the selected photographer), consists in a fashion photoshoot order.

It will be awarded to one of the finalists by the jury.

The meeting of Sergei Pavlov's purity and American Vintage's was almost inevitable.

The unisex tank top slides naturally into the multi-sex universe of the Sergei generation.

The minimalist sophistication, the refined work on the armholes melt into the enchantment of the river or lake that doesn't wrinkle.

Christian Louboutin

President of the fashion accessories jury and guest of honor

As a 12-year-old child Christian Louboutin loved to sketch women's shoes. "I drew stilettos, but I never thought designing them could be a career. I just loved drawing shoes, fascinated by their power of seduction and their ability to shape a silhouette".

Christian Louboutin creates shoes, bags and accessories for all genders, as well as a beautyrange that includes makeup and fragrance. Worn by musicians and movie stars, royalty and athletes, the designs share a luxurious aesthetic of exoticism, of Parisian chic and a unique craftsmanship.

Parisian by birth, surrounded by three sisters, Christian grew up with an innate understanding of the female world. By his early teens he was out clubbing at the iconic Le Palace and watching shows at the Folies Bergères and Moulin Rouge.

Fascinated by showgirls, he started his working life as an intern at the Folies Bergères. Christian became obsessed with the role of the shoe in defining a silhouette. "The shoe can change the way a woman walks, the way she moves, it can elongate the leg. The shoe can create magic, illusion, desire and these are all things that I love."

While he was still there, Christian called up Hélène de Mortemart, Christian Dior's fashion director, to present his drawings to her. They met, and she suggested an internship at Charles Jourdan, Dior shoes' manufacturer, where he spent a very instructive time "I learned my trade. It was no fantasyland, it was like toughland. I was smelling glue and I loved that.". Then he became personal assistant to the illustrious shoe designer Roger Vivier, who was a sculptor by training, and who showed him the magical symbiosis of exceptional design and craftsmanship.

His collaboration with Vivier done, he decided he could not anymore sketch shoes for anyone else. Christian worked as a landscape designer when a lucky encounter led him to rent a boutique at the corner of Galerie Vérot Dodat, a beautiful neoclassical arcade in the 1st arrondissement of Paris.

He took a chance on destiny, simultaneously opening his first boutique and the House of Christian Louboutin at the end of 1991. His first design was a pair of black loafers bearing the word LOVE, inspired by the image of Princess Diana alone at the Taj Mahal and intended so that the wearer could look down and be uplifted by a message of love. Within two months, Princess Caroline de Monaco became his client and one of his loyal supporters. In 1992 came the creative flash every designer can dream of. Christian was working at his desk, contemplating an unsatisfactory prototype of a shoe. While his assistant polished her nails; Christian grabbed her bottle of nail colour and painted the whole sole a vivid and lacquered red. He loved what he saw. The Christian Louboutin signature red sole was born.

This one gesture says so much about Christian and his house. Today, Christian Louboutin is an independent luxury house which allows him to remain spontaneous, instinctive and free to create. Everything evolves through chance, encounters and “le bon feeling” and travels, all of which have given rise to exciting collaborations. Christian has worked with craftspeople in Bhutan, Senegal, Mexico, with artists such as Dita von Teese, photographer David Lynch and singer Mika which unleashed to his very first men collection in 2009. He loves to collaborate with fashion designers, creating shoes for their shows, most memorably for Jean Paul Gaultier, Chanel and Yves Saint Laurent’s final couture show in 2002. More recently Christian has worked with Halpern and created sustainable designs for Germanier.

An insatiable traveller, Christian has houses in Paris, La Vendée, Portugal, Brazil and Egypt, where he also keeps a dahabiya, a traditional sailing boat. All his travels feed his imagination and inspire his creativity. “Wherever I go there’s always a garden to see, a museum, a church, a market, a concert, a piece of architecture – even in places that seem devoid of interest. I try to look where others don’t. Joy, awareness and surprise – to me that’s the perfect combination for creating.”

GRAND PRIX OF THE FASHION ACCESSORIES JURY

The Grand Jury Prize for Fashion Accessories awards a collaborative project with the CHANEL Métiers d'art, worth up to 20,000 euros.

The selection of the winner was the result of intense discussions between us, we were so impressed by the quality of the presented projects. Capucine Huguet stood out for the depth of her approach and the quality of the jewellery she created. She was able to develop a poetic and very contemporary approach to the climate emergency through the deconstruction of the process of melting ice which marked us.
