PRIX PHOTO TERRE SOLIDAIRE

The international award for Humanist and Environmental photography

First edition

Call for applications : October 3rd > December 4th, 2022

Since 1961, CCFD-Terre Solidaire has used photography as a witness of its action throughout the world. Never endorsing wretchedness, always looking to highlight women and men who contribute to changing the world. Thanks to many collaborations promoting the art of photography, the first French NGO for international solidarity and development has illustrated a global society that is moving, positively and sincerely.

This strong editorial line is supported by the reports in the magazine Echos du Monde and by the #JeudiPhoto. This latest addition of CCFD-Terre Solidaire is a weekly feature on social media that presents a situation in the world through the eyes of a photographer or the story of the photograph itself.

Thus, the PRIX PHOTO TERRE SOLIDAIRE is the result of a long-term work in supporting more and more photography and its authors.

The first edition of the PRIX PHOTO TERRE SOLIDAIRE is chaired by Sebastião SALGADO. Indeed, the famous photographer made his very first professional photo report in 1973 with the support and material help of the NGO, whose he is still a close companion.

The PRIX PHOTO TERRE SOLIDAIRE is a crosspoint between the fights carried by the NGO and the support to a committed world of photography. The Prix acknowledges the status of photographers-authors, as they always worked alongsides CCFD-Terre Solidaire.

This Prix has three dimensions : to recognize the career of a photographic artist, to support the continuation of the dedicated work and to invite the photographers to join the fights of CCFD-Terre Solidaire.

The laureate of the Grand Prix Terre Solidaire will receive 30,000 euros in order to continue the project presented to the Jury and a paid mission for a photo report about one of the international partners of CCFD - Terre Solidaire. His or her photographic project will be then presented during a summer photo festival in 2024.

The two laureates of the Prix Terre Solidaire will receive 10,000 euros each and a paid mission for a photo report during first semester 2023 about one of the international partners of CCFD - Terre Solidaire. Those reports will be exhibited in many international cultural places starting from September 2023.

Call for applications : October, 3rd > December, 4th 2022

The PRIX PHOTO TERRE SOLIDAIRE is open worldwide to professional photographers over the age of majority, with or without press card. The application form can be filled out in french or in english. The documentary work submitted must correspond to the theme of humanist and environmental photography.

The application form must contain :

-A resume

-A strictly personal photographic project consisting of :

- A photographic series with 15 to 30 pictures numbered, titled, located, dated and briefly commented. This series must be part of a long-term project. The applicant may propose the beginning of a series or a completed series.
- A documentary synopsis of the project explaining the candidate's desire to pursue the theme.

The three laureates will be revealed on February 2023.

[1] Humanist and Environmental Photography embraces the mindset of CCFD-Terre Solidaire which acts for social and environmental issues together. This theme aims to represent human beings at the heart of their global environment and values the people acting for a more sustainable and fairer world.
